FROM THE VICE CHAIR

Marghretta McBean

Happy 2004! Happy Year of the Monkey! May happiness, good health and fortune be with you and yours!

I haven't fully recovered from the grueling trip to New Orleans for the last American Mensa Committee (the AMC is the board of directors for American Mensa) meeting, December 11-14. Going down, rain delayed my flight two hours. Coming back, snow and then rain made the four-hour trip stretch to thirteen hours. I arrived home at 2 a.m. to 4 inches of water on my kitchen floor: water had collected on the roof, found a weak spot in my ceiling and poured through. The good news is that my ceiling is now freshly plastered, and I will be getting a new kitchen floor.

I did get a little time to walk around the French Quarter, which is as pretty and mysterious as the novels describe it. The AMC meeting ran almost 12 hours. As they say in diplomatic circles, there were several frank exchanges of opinion. One item of immediate interest is that American Mensa is suing Carlton Books Ltd. (publisher of those Mensa quiz books) for alleged trademark and license infringement. American Mensa believes that Carlton has been using the Mensa name in Great Britain without paying the appropriate fees. This suit will affect the 2004-5 budget. I created an Adobe .pdf file of the court filing which can be seen (and downloaded) at http://region1.us.mensa.org/AML vs. CarltonBooksLtd.pdf

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP UPDATE

In addition to featuring topics like "Getting Involved at the Regional or National level", and "From Agenda to Zany: Fast, Effective Business Meetings", the Leadership Development Workshop will hear Dr. Deborah Ruf, the National Gifted Children Coordinator, who has graciously offered to lead a Gifted Children track. This will be of special interest to not only Gifted Children Coordinators, but to the parents of gifted children and to gifted children themselves. Another national luminary, Dr. Jean Becker, the president of American Mensa, will also speak.

PROXYQUEST

If you haven't yet voted, please do so. You can vote online at <http://proxy.us.mensa.org>.

In cold weather you need something to heat you up (it's 1° F. as I write this). Here are two spice mixtures from Africa that will warm your meals. Berbere is the national spice mix of Ethiopia. Like Indian curry, there are many versions. Tabil is the national spice mix of Tunisia. It is especially nice on steamed vegetables.

BERBERE

1 1 / 2 Tbl. chili powder
 2 Tbl. paprika
 1 Tbl. onion powder
 1 tsp. garlic powder
 1 tsp. basil
 1 / 2 tsp. ground ginger
 1 / 4 tsp. black pepper
 1/8 tsp. each (all ground): cloves, cinnamon, cardamom, nutmeg, allspice, cumin, fenugreek and turmeric.
 Mix together and store in an airtight container.

TABIL

1Tbl. ground coriander seeds
 1 tsp. ground caraway seeds
 1 / 4 tsp. garlic powder
 1/8 tsp. chili powder
 Use a coffee mill (or mortar and pestle) to grind the seeds. Mix ingredients and store in airtight container.

ON THE 20TH CENTURY
HYPERINFLATION

One of the common features of 20th century life was price inflation. Although inflation did not originate in the 20th century, it became more prevalent in the world after World War I. In extreme cases, inflation became rampant "hyperinflation" with disastrous consequences.

Contrary to popular belief, the economic definition of inflation is not an increase in general prices, but an increase in the money supply. However, if the money supply increases faster than the supply of goods and services, there will be a general rise in prices. This rise may be concentrated in financial assets rather than in consumer goods, creating a "credit inflation" or "bubble" without changing the consumer price index much. But most cases of inflation raise consumer prices, and this is certainly what happened in history's hyperinflationary episodes.

One definition for hyperinflation, set by monetarist Philip Cagan in 1956, is 50% monthly increases in the price level. At that rate, something that cost $1 today would cost $130 a year later. There were no general price indexes before the industrial era, but most economic historians believe that the inflationary periods listed in Table 1 were hyperinflationary. The greatest inflation in American history (excluding the Civil War Confederacy) came during the war for independence. Colonists coined the phrase "not worth a Continental" to express their disdain for the revolutionary government's currency. In the 20th century, waves of hyperinflation wracked several European economies after World War I. Usually months or years of high inflation preceded the hyperinflation. Governments ran the printing presses wildly to pay off foreign or domestic debts, devaluing the national currency. When inflation got out of control, businesses raised prices daily and workers demanded daily payment, leading to comic scenes of people toting payments in wheelbarrows.

After World War II, hyperinflation occurred mostly in Third World countries, particularly in Latin American countries trying to inflate their way out of debt. The single greatest hyperinflation of the century, however, took place in Hungary immediately after World War II.

POETRY CORNER

SNOW-FLAKES (1858)

Rhyme: ababcc

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow (1807-1882)

Out of the bosom of the Air,
 Out of the cloud-folds of her garments shaken,
 Over the woodlands brown and bare,
 Over the harvest-fields forsaken,
 Silent, and soft, and slow
 Descends the snow.

Even as our cloudy fancies take
 Suddenly shape in some divine expression,
 Even as the troubled heart doth make
 In the white countenance confession,
 The troubled sky reveals
 The grief it feels.

This is the poem of the air,
 Slowly in silent syllables recorded;
 This is the secret of despair,
 Long in its cloudy bosom hoarded,
 Now whispered and revealed
 To wood and field.

LIFE (1911)

LET me but live my life from year to year,
 With forward face and unreluctant soul;
 Not hurrying to, nor turning from the goal;
 Not mourning for the things that disappear
 In the dim past, nor holding back in fear
 From what the future veils; but with a whole
 And happy heart, that pays its toll
 To Youth and Age, and travels on with cheer.

So let the way wind up the hill or down,
 O'er rough or smooth, the journey will be joy:
 Still seeking what I sought when but a boy,
 New friendship, high adventure, and a crown,
 My heart will keep the courage of the quest,
 And hope the road's last turn will be the best.

FOG (1916)

by Carl Sandburg (1878 - 1967)

THE fog comes on little cat feet.
 It sits looking over harbor and city
 on silent haunches
 and then moves on.

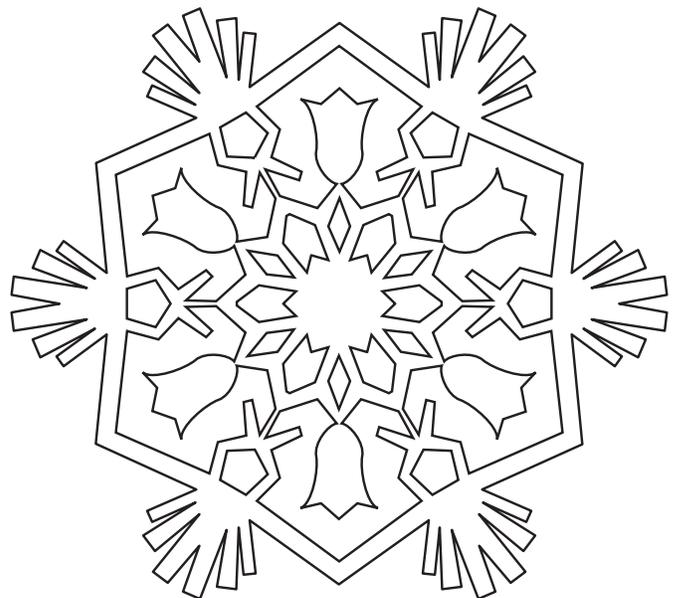

HENRY VAN DYKE, (1852 - 1933)

IF ALL THE SKIES (1911)

IF all the skies were sunshine,
 Our faces would be fain
 To feel once more upon them
 The cooling splash of rain.

If all the world were music,
 Our hearts would often long
 For one sweet strain of silence,
 To break the endless song.

If life were always merry,
 Our souls would seek relief,
 And rest from weary laughter
 In the quiet arms of grief.

GOOD WINE CHEAP (AND GOOD FOOD TO GO WITH IT)

By John Grover

This month our gourmet group ventured into the cuisine of French Canada. With the simple entry of "Quebec recipes" into the search engine, we found numerous interesting dishes. The result is North Woods cooking with a French flair. This includes an extraordinary pea soup, maple glazed carrots, fine seafood and a meat pie to die for. While the native beverage of choice might be Labatt's, we found several wines that fit well with the meal.

Our first wine is the 2001 Cuvee Rouge from the Chateau LaFayette Reneau winery located in New York's Finger Lakes region. This dry red wine is a blend of Baco Noir and Pinot Noir grapes, which produces a rich and fruity taste that passes like velvet through the mouth. It is a good food wine that matches well with pizza, pasta and the recipe below. I have usually found it for $6 - $8 a bottle.

We move from a good wine to an excellent wine with the 2000 Cotes du Rhone by E. Guigal wines of France. Typical of Cotes du Rhone, it is a blend of Syrah, Grenache and Mourvedre grapes. This is a complex wine that layers the taste of cherry, raspberry and pepper with subtle hints of flowers. It has a crispness borne of well-balanced acidity and a nice smoothness from its mellow tannins. This truly fine wine is generally available for between $10 and $12 a bottle

TOURTIERE: FRENCH CANADIAN MEAT PIE.

(There are probably as many variations to this recipe as there are mothers and grandmothers in Quebec.)

Ingredients:

- 1 pound ground pork
- 1/2 pound ground veal (or beef)
- 6 slices bacon
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons dried sage
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 (9 inch) unbaked pie crusts
- 1 1/4 cups water

Direction:

1. In a deep pan, brown ground veal, pork, and bacon. Drain off fat.
2. Stir in onion, celery, garlic, sage, salt, and pepper. Stir in 1 cup of the water, and bring mixture to boiling. Reduce heat, and cover. Simmer for 10 to 15 minutes, or till onion is tender. Stir frequently.
3. Combine cornstarch and the remaining 1/4-cup water. Add to hot meat and vegetable mixture, cooking and stirring till thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir 1 to 2 minutes more. Remove pan from heat, and cool slightly.
4. Fill pastry shell with meat and vegetable mixture. Roll out top crust on top, seal the edges, and put patterned slits in top crust.
5. Bake in a preheated 400 degrees F (205 degrees C) oven for 40 minutes, or until golden brown. Let stand about 15 minutes before serving.

PUZZLES & QUESTIONS

(Answers may be in next month's Chronicle.)

1. How are these digits ordered or arranged?

8 5 4 9 1 7 6 3 2 0

2. How many meals should a person eat a day?
How many square meals??
3. Some people want to add bridge to the Olympic Games. Make arguments for and against doing this.

ANSWERS TO LAST MONTH'S PUZZLES:

1. Where is the Suwannee River?

A: The Suwannee River begins in the glamorous Okefenokee Swamp in Georgia's southeast corner and runs through the Florida panhandle all the way down to the Gulf of Mexico.

3. What are the chances of a golfer getting a hole-in-one?

A: Somewhere between 18,000 and 45,000 to 1.

5. What are the oldest existing cities in the world?

A: Perhaps Aleppo (Syria), Damascus (Syria), or Jericho (Jordan).

6. If property values in Bridgeport drop by 10% and the property tax rate increases by 10%, by how large a percentage will property tax revenues change assuming no incentive effects (i.e., static scoring)?

A: If a property is worth $100,000 and the tax rate on it is 1%, then the tax is $1,000. If the property value drops by 10%, it is now worth $90,000. If the tax rate increases by 10%, it is now 1.1%. A 1.1% tax on the new value, $90,000, brings in $990 of tax revenues. So the tax revenue declines by  $[($990 - $1000) / 1000] \times 100\% = -1\%$ .
